Arsenic, selenium dose MV towns' water

By DAVID HORSMAN

HAZELTON — Dangerous levels of a poisonous and possibly cancer-causing chemical have been found in Hazelton's public water supply, according to a federal report.

supplies in 28 Idaho cities, including Hazelton, Castelford, Hollister and Hagerman.

Vaughn Anderson, director of categorical programs in the Idaho Department of Environmental and Community Services, (DECS), said his agency took a sample of the Hazelton water after results of the EPA study were announced.

Anderson said there have been no tests since the independent analysis was made. But "we will recheck it as soon as we can," he said.

Previously there was concern that selenium had potential as a carcinogen (a substance producing or tending to produce cancer).

Time running out on S. Idaho DST exemption

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Turnabout is fair play.

While it now appears eastern Idahoans have won their battle to put Southern Idaho on Daylight Saving Time, Utah legislators are talking about putting that state back onto standard time.

If both moves come to pass — Southern Idahoans will move their clocks ahead an hour, and Utahns will move them back. In other words, the two states will be out of step again — this time simply reversing time roles.

Utah's Time appears to have run out on the bill to exempt Southern Idaho from Daylight Saving (Legislative roundup, p. 8)

Time. Because of parliamentary procedure involved, it appears impossible to pass the bill through both houses and have the governor sign it prior to the Feb. 3 deadline — impossible without rules suspension which is highly unlikely.

There, however, it will take a two-thirds majority of both houses to consider this measure in the budget session. The committee is not scheduled to meet until after the house adjourns for the week-end.

wardward — probably Friday afternoon at the earliest. Even if the committee reports the bill out, its report won't be read over the desk until Monday. The committee is not scheduled to meet until after the house adjourns for the week-end.

use taxes paid foreign countries as credits on their U.S. taxes.

Gem House approves remap plan

Times-News Capitol Bureau BOISE — The House today passed and sent to the Senate a reapportionment plan that splits Gooding County between two legislative districts and makes changes in two other districts in southwestern Idaho.

—Giving special priority in the new federal budget to urban transportation.

Written questions proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., proposed today that written questions be submitted to President Nixon about his knowledge of various aspects of the Watergate scandal unless he agrees by the end of the week to meet personally with the Senate Watergate committee.

No change LACK OF gasoline brings no change in transportation for Robert A. Magnuson, Bethesda, Md., computer scientist. He rides to work at National Institutes of Health, daily aboard the one-wheeler no matter what the weather. (UPI)

Nixon said he was asking a complete repeal of the foreign oil depletion allowance. Currently oil companies get a 22 per cent depletion allowance both domestically and internationally to provide an incentive for production. The domestic allowance would stay in Nixon's plan.

Weicker's proposal, a source close to the senator said, is that the committee, of which he is a member, renew its request to meet with the President at the White House, with a report on the exchange to be made public after the meeting.

Miners backed

LONDON (UPI) — Leaders of Britain's largest labor unions today swung solidly behind 200,000 coal miners in their pay struggle with the government. They promised all-out support if the miners call a nationwide shutdown.

The vote came with one-third of the federal court's 30-day allotted time period expired. If the legislature doesn't reapportion the state along one-man lines within the first month of the session, the court will take over the task.

Murder charge names Buhlman

TWIN FALLS — Two Buhlman men were arrested by Fremont County and Twin Falls County sheriff's offices Tuesday night, on a charge of first degree murder.

However, in the absence of any response by the end of this week, individual members or the committee as a whole shall in the interests of fairness prior to the issuance of the final (committee) report on Feb. 28, 1974, propound such questions in writing as they would have asked the President in person, for transmittal to the White House on Feb. 5, 1974.

Junior college funding proposal stirs squabble

TWIN FALLS — According to Gov. Cecil Andrus' budget, Idaho junior colleges are receiving funds for a thousand or more students that don't exist.

year is discussed. The figures show an increase of only $600, from $1,800, 500 to $1,301,100, reflecting for an estimated enrollment of 1,983 at a 50 per cent level of state support.

Arrested with Harms was Roger Dale Evans, 25, Buhl, who was charged with being an accessory after the fact. Segelmeier said Evans apparently drove Harms to the Mackert farm prior to the shooting.

Weicker noted that the committee had asked "on at least two or three occasions" in the past to meet with Nixon but got "no response either in the affirmative or the negative."

Both men are due to be arraigned in Fremont County court this afternoon, at which time bond will be set, Segelmeier said. The men were immediately taken to the jail by Sheriff Anthony following their arrest in Buhl, he said.

The committee appeared divided on whether to conduct further public hearings that could touch on contributions to Nixon's past campaign efforts by millionaire Howard Hughes and the milk industry.

Programming changing, TV network head says

By RICHARD G. HIGH

TWIN FALLS — The head of the ABC Television Network says next year's television programming will stress "pro-social" values instead of sex and violence.

JAMES DUFFY

He said the industry has achieved "a certain maturity" in which values such as integrity, "simple honesty" and "simple loyalty" are being reconsidered. He said the new concern with traditional values will be emphasized in programs now being created for release in the 1974-75 season.

New TF plant opening slated

TWIN FALLS — A new factory has come to Twin Falls.

The August opening of a Twin Falls irrigation accessories and pipeline and accessories manufacturing plant was announced at the Chamber of Commerce here this morning.

Tom Longmire, general manager of the irrigation products division of the Aluminum Mill Products, Inc., said the plant will begin full production with 15 employees by August.

Construction on the 30,000 square foot manufacturing plant will begin immediately, he said. The plant will produce irrigation equipment for distribution to the seven Northwest states and western Canada. The facility will be located on South Eastland Road near the Amalgamated Sugar factory.

Robert M. Falash, a native of Idaho, has been appointed plant manager of the Twin Falls operation.

Amalgamated Aluminum Mill Products, Inc., is an operating unit of Amalgamated Aluminum Co., Inc., a subsidiary of American Metals — Climax, Inc., headquartered in New York.

TV credibility up, aide says

TWIN FALLS — Network reporting of Watergate and other national scandals has "helped" television's credibility, according to the head of the ABC Television Network.

James E. Duffy, in comments after a speech in Twin Falls Tuesday night, said television news "is perhaps the most honest" form of reportage.

"It's all there to be seen and heard," Duffy said he had encountered "very little reaction" following an ABC evening news commentary by anchorman Howard K. Smith, in which Smith called for President Nixon's resignation.

Duffy said most of the reaction expressed "surprise that we would go that far." Network newsmen "bristle" when attacked by the President but try to remain objective, he said. ABC executives are "constantly" reminding newsmen to remain objective in their reportage, he said.

ABC and the other networks haven't been hurt in the pocketbook by the Watergate hassle, he said.

"Sales are absolutely excellent. 1974 will be a record year," ABC's first quarter sales were "mushy," but are strong for the second and third quarters, he said.

Moreover, the average length of time in which a television set is turned on in the average American house has risen steadily for 11 consecutive years, and now is at six hours and 15 minutes a day, he said.

TV exec predicts program shift

(Continued from p. 1) He said the credibility gap is unfamiliar for modern Americans, though "history fairly clanks with it." "The gap is worsened," he said, "by the moral breakdown at the topmost branches of the national tree."

The credibility gap has been exaggerated, by two key factors: "The administration of the country" has "gone from the very outset" attempted to "undercut the credibility of the media."

And, Duffy said, the media, "simply in doing its duty" by reporting news, "unwittingly and I think inadvertently, added to the credibility gap of the administration."

Mrs. Faye Hoffman, president, announced that the club will sponsor a girl to American Legion Girls' State for the 11th time this year.

Paula Remaley was selected as the club's young career girl to compete with other candidates from throughout the state in a speaking contest later this year.

Emma Steffan, Vinnie Boatwright, Minnie Benkula and Alberta Knight were hostesses.

Burley workshop slated

BURLEY — Women, their problems and their roles in the world, will be the focus of a day-long women's workshop set for Saturday in Burley. Babysitting will be provided for women who attend the workshop which begins at 10 a.m. in the Idaho Bank and Trust conference room. Refreshments will be provided but participants are urged to bring a sack lunch.

Speakers from throughout the state will attend the workshop, presenting topics as varied as the history of women, the psychology of women, family and child relationships and women's rights.

Dr. David Austin, Cassia County school psychiatrist, will start off the workshop with a discussion on the psychology of women. Marge Slotten, president of the Idaho League of Women Voters, will explain the Equal Rights Amendment.

Three Head Start Personnel, Barb Jensen, Twin Falls, and Hope Gerhardt and Mary Mischner, both Burley, will present a panel discussion on children and the family. A history of women will be given by Ann Martinez and Mary Swanson, both of Pocatello.

Fred, Grant, Human Rights Commission, Boise, will discuss women's rights and legal status. Women in the educational system will be discussed by Terry Castaneda, district supervisor for the Community Action Program and a former English professor at the College of Southern Idaho.

Area contracts signed

BURLEY — Contracts for the Burley northside sewer project were signed Tuesday morning.

Work will probably start this week, according to Leon Bedke, Burley-City engineer.

Van De Grift, Inc., Boise, was the only bidder for the approximately $170,000 project. Its bid was accepted Monday night at the Burley City Council meeting.

Bedke said that one lift station would be needed on the north side of the Snake River to carry effluents from the small lagoon there to the large lagoon system on the south side of the river.

Wastes will be transported over the river in a pipe attached to the Burley-Paul bridge. The small northside lagoon is "not doing the job," according to Bedke.

The lagoon system on the south side of the river was built in the early 1960s. Bedke said it was "designed way above standards to last for the next 30 years."

Because of current Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) standards, this system will have to be "updated" to meet July 1, 1977, regulations. Studies are presently being made to keep the Burley system within standards, according to Bedke. "These lagoons are the best in the country," Bedke said.

"They keep effluents for a full cycle of 80-85 days," Bedke said, "the weather does make a difference" in the efficiency of the system. The city has experienced problems with ice on the lagoons in the winter.

Bedke expressed doubt that 1977 standards will be met everywhere and said that requirements may change. "We've been hassling this thing for three and one-half years," he said. "The EPA still hasn't set down (final) requirements. It's still kind of a shot in the dark situation."

TV morality

ABC Television Network President James E. Duffy sounded an encouraging note in Twin Falls Tuesday night. He said television programs for the coming year will reflect a national trend by stressing "pro-social instead of anti-social" values. He sees the nation at a "crossroads of values" in which the traditional "simple values" are being stressed. Television, as a mirror of the society, will also stress these values.

The question of values is particularly important because of the nature of television.

Unlike movies or books or newspapers, television tends to be watched by every member of the home. There is little program variation for children or adults during prime-time hours. Everyone watches the same thing.

So a program designed for a "mature or adult" audience may be inappropriate to small children. The difficulty is exaggerated with some of the current sex-and-violence offerings of the networks. There will come a day when cable television nets are used to bring a large variation of programming into the home, permitting selection of programs on an individual instead of family basis. Then networks would be justified in showing a larger range of programs.

But for the time being there will be an audible sigh of relief when networks reorient their "family" program content.

No boat rockers

Lawson Tribune

Perhaps it is only because the cats have been belied by predictions of legislative strife, but Democratic Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and the Republican majority in the Idaho Legislature have stopped short only of declaring a mutual admiration society.

Before the legislature went into session many expected all hell to break loose. It is an election year with the governor and all 105 members of the legislature up for re-election. Moreover, the same Republican leadership that went out of its way to stick pins in a Democratic governor in the last session would be back in business at the same old place.

Andrus is rated a sound bet for re-election at this point, which means he would rather not have his boat rocked. Therefore, it seemed only natural that the same rascals who were posturing in the last session would be rocking the governor's boat like crazy this year.

But they haven't been, to date. They have been cooperative and unusually kind in their judgments on the governor's state of the state and budget messages. In fact, the Republican remarks on the budget message were so uniformly complimentary that it makes one suspicious. Ordinarily a governor could deliver a budget message so brilliant that it shows plainly how to make the world's economy forever sound, and members of the opposition party will still say:

"It was generally a good speech, but I wonder why he didn't mention the county weed control tax and why he always overstates the sales tax revenue. Personally, I was a little disappointed."

No matter which party is involved, the comments always go that way. No party likes to give unqualified praise to a governor from the opposition party; he might use it to get re-elected.

But the Republican legislators lined up last week and almost cheered the governor's message.

Part of the reason was that the message was conciliatory and cooperative in tone. Part of the reason was that he pulled their own conservative fiscal rug out from under them and wrapped himself within its righteous folds.

But part of the reason must also have been that the Republican caucus leaders admonished the GOP membership to remember that there is no way to get into a nasty public fight with the governor without the Republicans sharing in the blame for the two-way battle.

That is sound and uncharacteristically mature. It means that the Republicans have realized that there is no way to rock the governor's re-election boat in the legislature without rocking their own as well. They are both in the same boat. — B. H.

Eire view peaceful, cheering

WASHINGTON—Joint Protestant-Catholic rule of Ulster, or Northern Ireland, isn't working too well, possibly because both sides are Irish.

This suggests it might be more cheerful to take a look at the other Ireland, or Eire, which became an independent republic in 1949 and since has been a lot more peaceful than Washington.

In the old days, when there was only one Ireland, the Irish were the only country the Romans couldn't whip. England had better luck, but it took her 500 years to do the job. Even then, the Irish wouldn't behave but went about flogging landlords and seizing postoffices and generally harassing the Sassenachs.

For a country that's only a little more than half the size of Ohio and has half the gross product of Gulf Oil, Ireland's sure had considerable publicity over the centuries. That may be because about 1300 B.C. some bard invented a system of writing called Ogham. (Frustrated tourists who try to decipher Gaelic sings call it something else, but let that pass.)

ANDREW TULLY

In fact, Irish scholars have always been hot stuff. The Druids knew an amazing number of psychic tricks, used mostly to sell their medicine to the working stiffs. Then when Christianity was introduced, bishops and monks founded numerous schools and universities and shortly Ireland became the seat of Western learning.

Royalty in earlier days was headed by the Ard-Ri, or high king. He had a pommel of minor kings who were chiefs of the various clans. Seeing this, the Danes figured the Irish would be a soft touch, but King Brian Boromh rallied the clans and the Danes fled home wondering what had hit them.

Brits then succeeded in whupping all the other kings out by one. The last one he subdued was a brave cuss named Malachy, who affected a gold collar. But in 1169 England decided to take over. King Henry II said he wanted to restore peace and the Pope had told him it was okay.

The Irish didn't fall for that one and gave the invading Britons a hard time. Not until 1607 was the power of the last great Gaelic chief broken and an Englishman could go out at night without a regiment of Redcoats to protect him.

Once in command, the English drove Irishmen off their land and gave it to their dukes and lords, persecuted the Catholics, and wouldn't let Irish craftsmen sell their goods to any country but England. As a result, the Irish were always yelling "Erin go bragh," rebelling and getting caught and hanged.

Finally, after the Easter Rebellion of 1916, the English figured they'd better ease up a touch while they still had some live soldiers to fight the war. In 1921 Ireland was made a dominion, like Canada.

From there, it was only a relatively short step to independence. Today, Eire is at peace and running things on its own. But for real Irish peace, serenity is a mixed blessing. It keeps them off-Page 1.

THOSTESON, M.D. Colitis serious

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What makes mucus in the colon? Is it serious and is there a cure for it? Are colones a cure? — A. G.

The problem goes under the name of mucous colitis, an ailment which tends to become chronic and a continuing problem unless it is controlled.

Colones, by which I presume you mean chronic colonic irritations, are not a cure, any more than washing the inside of your nose can cure a cold. The mucus is there as a response to irritation, and it is the irritation, not the mucus, that needs removal.

Frankly, mucous colitis is not a simple ailment to treat and don't expect success in a hurry.

NEW YORK — However the Israelis may assess the disengagement agreement

from a diplomatic and political point of view, from a military point of view Israel's withdrawal from her major bridgehead west of the Suez

Canal, and Egypt's retention of positions on the eastern bank and of bridges across the canal, appear to shift the strategic balance in Cairo's favor.

"Taking away that Israeli force is like removing a pistol at the heart of Egypt," said an American military expert.

The Israeli withdrawal, he added, would free the approximately 18,000 men of the Egyptian Third Army who have been largely cut off east of the canal since October, and would allow them to regroup and be re-equipped.

Some officials also argued that the disengagement agreement might have an adverse military effect on the Egyptian position in the United States and Israel.

These sources pointed out that, if, as many believe, the agreement led to the reopening of the Suez Canal, the Soviet Union would reap an important strategic advantage. Russian naval forces in the Indian Ocean, under the canal now open, could be drawn from the Black Sea fleet, based at Sevastopol, instead of the Pacific fleet at Vladivostok, a saving of about 5,000 miles.

In the Sinai peninsula, the main battleground in three

Egyptian-Israeli wars, it seems clear that the Israeli defense forces have traded an offensive position for one that, while perhaps more secure, is primarily defensive.

The new Israeli position, the line of hills through which the Gaza and Mitla passes run, would be easier to extend than the bulging bridgehead west of the canal. But once the U.N.

emergency force is in place, the

Israeli forces at the passes will offer no direct threat to the Egyptian Second and Third armies astride the Suez Canal.

Those armies could constitute a threat to Israel.

Once reinforced, and the Third

Army rearmed with new Soviet weapons, they could concentrate west of the canal

'I'D IMPEACH HIM FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING ALONE!'

Voter reaction proves paradox

NEWARK, Ohio — No sooner had the latest Watergate bombshell exploded in Washington than, weather-vane voters here reached this paradoxical conclusion: The White House deliberately erased the 18-minute tape segment, but Richard M. Nixon should complete his term as president.

This attitude permeated our interviews, conducted with the help of Oliver Quayle's polling organization, in precinct "D" of Ward 3, a barometer of state and national election results. An overwhelming majority of these voters regard Nixon as a liar, a tax chisel and a poor president. Yet, they oppose the start of impeachment proceedings, much less removal from office.

Quayle, this seeming contradiction is pervasive, depending on skepticism that any successor to Nixon would improve things much. The barometer precinct, selected by election analyst Richard Scammon, consists largely of blue-collar workers who supported Nixon in 1972. But among the 70 residents interviewed, four, out of five felt that the White House deliberately destroyed evidence.

This comports generally with answers to a questionnaire prepared for us by Quayle researcher Jonathan Lovell. The President gets a job approval from these 70 voters of only 27 per cent. The vast majority believe Nixon did not pay his fair share of taxes, has lied about Watergate and has suffered seriously in capacity to govern because of Watergate.

Most shocking, only 7 of the 70 voters believe

Moreover, voters express overriding fear of impeachment. By 4 to 1, they believe impeachment — no matter how justified — would weaken the country. A "middle-aged factory worker who voted for Sen. George McGovern in 1972 believes Nixon should finish his term. "From the standpoint of the good of the country in the eyes of the world."

Cynicism also runs deep in reaction to the energy crisis. Nearly half do not think the crisis is serious, and a 3 to 1 majority agree the oil companies cooked up the crisis to increase profits.

The general climate of cynicism is typified by the 29-year-old wife of a factory worker who believes nothing that Nixon has said about the energy crisis. "Nixon is a liar," she says. "Nobody can do a good job these days," and Nixon, therefore, should finish his term.

Futility, cynicism and skepticism are the barriers, then, that may protect Nixon against future revelations which, by nearly 4 to 1, these voters suspect lie undiscovered. If their present mood holds, however, even new disclosures will not make the impeachment case against the President.

EVANS & NOVAK

Nixon first learned of the Watergate burglary when he said he did. But 34 believe he knew about it before it was planned — a charge nobody has ever made.

Nevertheless, those interviewed opposed retirement by a ratio of 2 to 1; by 35 to 27 with 8 undecided, they oppose even the start of impeachment proceedings.

Social Security part of spiral

By MARY J. WILSON

(c) New York Times Service

NEW YORK — Workers hit with the annual January reduction in take-home pay because of social security taxes are facing the unpleasant prospect of paying more and longer in 1974.

Congress has raised social security benefits, and therefore taxes, once again. Those on the receiving end will have 11 per cent added to their regular monthly checks — 7 per cent starting in April and another 4 per cent in July.

To provide the money, the maximum amount of earnings subject to tax will be raised to 13,200 from $10,800. This means a bite up to $140 more this year for all workers earning $10,800 or more. Those earning less will pay the same amount as in 1973.

A worker who makes $300 a week, $15,600 a year, paid social security tax for 36 weeks last year before the bite ended. This year it will be for 44 weeks.

The 1974 rise in benefits comes on top of a 20 per cent increase just before the 1972 election and follows increases of 10 per cent in 1971, 15 per cent in 1969 and 10 per cent in 1967. This year, the average retired worker will get $5 per cent more than he did in 1966, compared with a 38 per cent rise in the cost of living in this period.

Social security is thus fast becoming a broad fringe-benefit and income-distribution system. The number of beneficiaries of all types (old age, survivors, disability and hospital insurance) climbed from 3 million in 1950 to 30 million at present.

Meanwhile, payments have soared from $1 billion in 1950 to an expected $73 billion in 1974. At this rate of growth, social security will become a $200-billion program by 1984.

The vote-getting appeal of liberalizing benefits has prompted Congress to do so immediately before or after every biennial election since 1950. Contributions have been easy to raise because social security was sold as a form of self-paid, insurance bought with "painless" payroll deductions.

The system has been expanded by adding groups not originally included. As a result, benefits and contributions have been growing for many years at an annual rate in excess of 15 per cent — or more than twice as fast as the nation's wage and salary income.

The Social Security Administration has estimated future benefits and taxes, by assuming that the consumer price index will rise at an average annual rate of 2 1/2 per cent and the national wage level at 5 per cent. If they are right and if Congress never again sweetens the program, the maximum retirement benefit will rise to $7,236 in 1980 and will top $30,000 by the year 2010. Meanwhile, the maximum contribution per worker will reach $8,288 with income up to $65,300 then subject to the social security tax.

In fact, the consumer price index has been rising at an average of more than 5 per cent a year since 1966, and hourly compensation has gained about 7 per cent annually. So the administration's figures may be well below the mark.

As payroll taxes rise, workers will press for offsetting wage gains. Business, hit with both higher labor costs and social security taxes, will try to compensate by raising prices. So the consumer price index will rise again, triggering another increase in social security benefits.

Goldwater sees GOP vote trouble

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater says he has neither the power nor the desire to force President Nixon's resignation.

But, the Arizona Republican said, the Republican Party may suffer disastrous losses in the November elections because of the Watergate scandal.

Goldwater said new opinion surveys show Republicans are losing 10 percentage points off the top as the result of scandals in the administration.

"So if you didn't win by 60 per cent or better," he said in an interview, "you've got a handful of trouble in this election."

Goldwater said the polling results differ markedly from those in November, when similar surveys were showing incumbents of both parties suffering from Watergate and a general loss of confidence in government.

The "SAP" — the "most effective" Egyptian low-level antiaircraft missile, has a range of about 25 miles, which is adequate to protect any buildup of Egyptian forces west of the canal.

Israeli forces on the hill line will be out of range of the SAM's and of Egyptian heavy artillery. But Israeli shells will not be able to interfere with traffic across the bridges to the eastern bank of the canal nor stop any troop buildup in the Sinai. In any event, those bridges survived three weeks of bombing and shelling in October, military sources recalled.

Neither Egypt nor Israel has yet divulged what arrangements have been made for the northern sector of the Sinai front.

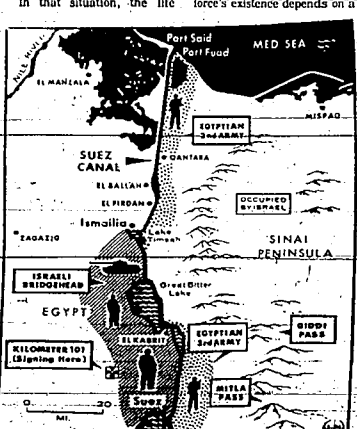

as they did in September and October.

In that situation, the life expectancy of the U. N. force becomes important. The force's existence depends on a renewal after six months of the Security Council resolution of Oct.

27, covering

arrangements for the 7,000-man force. Some officers order what would happen if the Soviet Union, viewing the military situation as favorable to Egypt, vetoed an extension of the resolution and forced the withdrawal of the U. N. troops.

The Israeli force holding the hill line will have to be a good deal stronger than the two brigades that held the Bar-Lev line along the canal before the Egyptian attack in October.

Consequently, demobilization

may not proceed

at the pace expected.

Israel had seven brigades at full strength, approximately

24,500 men, and five brigades at half strength, or 8,750 men.

On Oct. 6, Western military opinion is that to maintain a credible defense on the Egyptian and Syrian fronts, five additional fully mobilized brigades, about 17,500 men, would have to remain under arms.

Tax plan said not workable

(c) N. Y. Times Service
WASHINGTON — A bipartisan panel of tax experts told the Senate Finance Committee today that the plan to tax "windfall profits" of oil companies that is contained in the emergency energy bill is unworkable.

Most of the panelists proposed other types of increases in the taxes paid by oil companies, however. Among the proposals with wide support was a suggestion that the 22 per cent depletion allowance be phased out as oil prices rise and that the immediate deductions given oil companies for what are known as their "intangible drilling costs" be terminated. There was some support, but not as widespread, for some kind of limitation on the credit that oil companies and others with international operations receive for payments of taxes to foreign countries.

The hearing had been called by the finance committee chairman, Russell B. Long, D-La.

Oil drilling ban rapped

(c) Chicago Daily News
WASHINGTON — The current energy crisis might have been averted or its effects made less severe if the Navy had been allowed to continue drilling for oil on its Alaskan reserves 21 years ago.

This contention of Lt. Cmdr. Kirby Brant was voiced at a Senate Commerce Subcommittee hearing Thursday.

Brant, who is deputy director of the Navy's Office of Petroleum and Oil Shale Reserves, disclosed that the incoming Eisenhower administration in 1953 abruptly terminated the drilling program just as it was ready to switch from shallow to deep drilling.

Work was ready to begin at a well, with rig in place and all supplies in position, programmed to reach the deeper veins at Shaviovik, Brant said. "Had it been drilled, it may have hit the kind of vast oil deposits the actual discovery of which had to wait 15 years for commercial operations to the north of Shaviovik," he said.

Brant testified with unusual candor for a Navy official in the hearing chaired by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III (D-Ill.) because he recently submitted his resignation.

He stated that he resigned to fight policies being followed by the defense and interior departments when he feels will result in the Navy's vast oil reserves in Alaska and California being turned over to the private oil industry.

9 fliers still held

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. Congressman says he has been told by a pro-American Laotian general that at least nine American fliers are still being held captive by North Vietnam.

"But the Congressman—Rep. Benjamin A. Gilman, D-N.Y.—joined by Defense and State Department officials, warned servicemen "...to be wary of raising their hopes since there is no substantiation of these reports at this time."

Gilman said Tuesday his information came from Laotian Gen. Vang Pao, who led the Central Intelligence Agency's secret army of Meo tribesmen in northern Laos.

But the State Department, in issuing its statement warning against the raising of "false hopes," said Vang Pao had made "similar comments" in the past which "careful investigation" had failed to substantiate.

The Pentagon said that while it was "checking it out," the story did not "correlate with anything we've had to date."

Fraud issue unresolved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon may have to pay some back income taxes, according to the chairman of a congressional committee investigating Nixon's tax returns.

Agreement approved

(c) N. Y. Times Service
JERUSALEM — Rejecting the opposition's angry charge of one-sidedness, the Israeli withdrawal parliament today approved the new troop-pullback agreement signed with Egypt last week.

The vote, 76-43, came after a spirited nine-hour debate in which Premier Golda Meir argued that Israel had signed the agreement not out of military inferiority or necessity, but with the object of advancing toward a permanent peace settlement.

In the vote, the governing labor party was joined by all the smaller parties of the left, including the communists. Only Likud voted in the negative.

The agreement, signed Friday after an intensive week of on-site mediation by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, was the first item of business in the opening session of the eighth parliament.

But he said the question of fraud was still unresolved.

"The more I learn about the matter," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said, "the more it seems to me that we will ask the President to pay some back taxes."

Long's committee is one of three groups—including the White House and the Internal Revenue Service—investigating whether or not Nixon took an improper tax deduction when he claimed $750,000 in deductions for the gift of some of his Vice Presidential papers to the National Archives.

Long said the deductions, even while they may have been improper, may have been taken in good faith and without fraudulent intent. He said the investigation has not proceeded far enough to make any conclusions about whether fraud was involved.

The Watergate-besieged White House, meanwhile, continued to insist that Nixon's term of office and to "stop being" assumed another year by Watergate.

Presidential press secretary Ronald Ziegler said Tuesday

Nixon "knows he has not been involved in any wrongdoings" in the Watergate scandal.

On Capitol Hill, Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., a member of the House Judiciary Committee investigating the possibility of a Nixon impeachment, said he has written a bill designed to obtain impeachment evidence from Watergate. Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Jaworski has said he cannot turn material over to the committee because if he is being presented to grand juries and must be kept secret. Railsback, however, said his measure would require all information relevant to impeachment of a President or vice president be turned over to the House panel conducting the impeachment inquiry.

In other developments involving the President's Watergate-related troubles:

—Dwayne G. Andrews, a major contributor to Nixon's 1972 campaign, asked in papers filed in U.S. District Court that charges he made an illegal $100,000 gift to the 1968 presidential campaign of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., be dismissed. The charges were filed by prosecutor Archibald Cox just before Cox was fired.

Wife needed

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — One of the South American male students attending Portland State University was in the mood for matrimony, according to this advertisement that appeared Tuesday in the student newspaper, Vanguard.

"Wanted: Young, Colombian to be departed: Mc. Write to Frederick Lopez at 8302 North Lombard if you are under thirty, female and will marry for a year. This is a bonafide statement."

Statement denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department today denied reports Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told Israeli officials during his trip to the Middle East that President Nixon would leave office within six months but that he would stay on as secretary of state.

Department spokesman John King said "the report is an outrageous lie."

King said he made his comment after it was brought to the attention of Kissinger. "The reports were first aired on the NBC nightly news Tuesday evening. In a report from its Tel Aviv bureau, the network and Kissinger told two Israeli ministers his position would not change in an administration headed by Vice President Gerald R. Ford.

Remap bill keeps Gooding split

By DAVID ESPO
T-N Capitol Bureau

BOISE — The House voted one change in a proposed reapportionment plan Tuesday but left unchanged a feature of the bill that splits Gooding County between two existing legislative districts.

House members, acting as a committee of the whole, adopted an amendment offered by Rep. Mel Hammond, R-Boise, which would have the reapportionment bill explaining why no legislative district lines were being redrawn in eastern Idaho.

The reason, according to Hammond, is the 1800 Flunks College students who were counted in population census figures by the federal government who have certified they are out-of-state residents. Hammond's passed easily.

But two other plans, which proposed to make changes in district boundaries that differed from the changes in the bill as originally drafted, narrowly failed to win approval.

The amendment dealing with Gooding County was sponsored by Rep. Lee Barron, R-Corral. Instead of putting western Gooding County into a legislative district with Camas and Elmore counties, the amendment left Gooding in its current district with Jerome and part of Lincoln counties. Barron's plan added to Elmore and Camas Counties by taking part of District 17 in Ada County.

Barron told the House during debate his amendment would "point a new direction for future reapportionment by trying to preserve the integrity which can be preserved."

The Corral Republican noted that Ada County must be "chopped up" among several districts because of its heavy population density. He claimed that to add from Ada County to District 22 would be to recognize the "flow of commerce."

But Rep. E. Dan Copple, R-Boise, whose district would be affected by Barron's plan, objected. He said there were more people in the one precinct that would be involved in the change than live in Fairfield. He pointed out that the urban interests of his constituents were different from those in Barron's current district in Elmore and Camas counties.

The amendment failed by the unofficial tally of 27-22.

The third amendment that was offered in the committee of the whole would have added to District 9 in western Idaho by eliminating part of Idaho County and adding from two Canyon County Districts. It, too, failed, on the unofficial tally of 25-35.

Holiday changed

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Transportation Committee Tuesday introduced a measure to change Decoration Day back to May 30 and to change the name to Memorial Day.

The holiday was changed by the 1972 legislature from May 30 to the last Monday in May to conform with federal legislation.

Committee Chairman Reed Badger, R-Soda Springs, said veterans groups desired the Memorial Day change.

Log

Introduced in the Senate SB1220 (Health, Education and Welfare) — Giving Boise State College university status.

SB1281 (Transportation) — Providing that motor vehicles manufactured prior to Jan. 1, 1943, could be eligible for "old timer" car privileges.

SB1282 (Transportation) — Renaming Decoration Day as Memorial Day and providing that it be observed May 30.

Introduced in the House: HB360 (Business) — Making it unlawful to reproduce for sale any sound recording without written consent of the owner of the master recording.

Smacked

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. H. Dean Summers, R-Boise, was showered with flowers and kisses on the floor of the Idaho Senate Tuesday.

A group of women presented a dozen roses to Summers in appreciation of his "great service to the women of Idaho." Each then kissed him on the cheek.

Surplus figures short?

T-N Capitol Bureau

BOISE — The chairman of a legislative subcommittee studying general fund revenue projections said Tuesday Gov. Cecil D. Andrus may have underestimated the size of the state's surplus by $8 million.

Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, R-Tuttle, said figures made available to the committee's staff and information from the State Tax Commission indicates the governor's budget staff was underestimating when they set the general fund surplus at $16 million.

The subcommittee chairman said one problem has cropped up with the projections, however, Ravenscroft said some information indicates mistakes have been made in computing the amount of money the state should be able to use as income tax refunds.

That money, although generated from tax sources, is not included in the money the legislature can appropriate for general fund projects.

Ravenscroft said the problems with the refund calculations may stall a formal vote of his subcommittee on a revenue projection figure to Friday.

He had planned to begin voting Thursday, he said, after a public hearing that has been called for Wednesday.

Andrus told the legislature the budget surplus was $15.6 million and proposed using it for "one-time" expenditures. Several lawmakers have said Andrus' estimate was too low and the governor said on a television interview program over the weekend he was not "locked in" with his figure.

University status bill introduced

BOISE (UPI) — A bill to give Boise State College university status was introduced in the Idaho Senate Tuesday by the Health, Education and Welfare Committee.

The name would be changed to Boise State University effective July 1, 1974.

Earlier Tuesday, at a committee meeting, Sen. Julie Cobbs, R-Boise, said "a more unified state system of higher education" would be created by changing the school's status.

Such a change, said Cobbs, "would enhance degrees students receive in the years ahead and will enhance the faculty." He added that it would help the institution receive federal grants.

South Gem DST change probable

After the committee report is read, the bill will be filed for second reading Tuesday. Then it could come up for final consideration in the house Wednesday.

But even if it passes — which some members doubt can happen — the bill can be held in the house until Thursday by a reconsideration motion. That would give the senate exactly three days — if it meets Saturday next week — to pass the bill.

That, of course, is all it takes if proponents of the measure can grease the track. Trouble is opponents in the senate can delay it there one extra day by a reconsideration move, too, and that would put it off until Monday, Feb. 4.

And that is one day too late.

Road aid asked

(Times-News Capitol Bureau)

BOISE — The chairman of the House Transportation Committee suggested in a floor speech Tuesday the legislature establish a revolving fund to help north Idaho repair damages to highways caused in flooding last week.

Rep. John Sessions, R-Driggs, said a special legislative task force had been appointed to investigate ways of assisting the recovery from the flood. The task force met with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Tuesday, he said, and agreed a revolving fund might be useful in helping make funds available for road reconstruction.

Sessions said the legislature could put money into the fund for local units of government, which could then repay the fund when federal disaster relief money becomes available.

Mail vote bill opposition seen

BOISE (UPI) — A veteran Idaho legislator said Tuesday he expected the state's county clerks "to fight tooth and nail" a bill he would introduce to allow voting by mail.

Sen. Arthur Murphy, D-Mulita, said the clerks were still living in the 1890's and want to resist any changes.

Cauting his plan "modern and money saving," Murphy said he was surprised to introduce it because of "the declining participation in the conduct of elections and the general apathy of voters."

Murphy noted that the legislature last session passed a measure requiring the clerks to set up a "master jury list."

"Many clerks have failed to obey the law and compile this master list," said Murphy. "That's why they're talking to my change."

Speed law sought

BOISE (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy Tuesday asked the Senate Transportation Committee to give "serious consideration" to legislative changing Idaho's highway speed limit law.

Murphy wrote committee chairman Reed Badger, R-Soda Springs, that Idaho will lose its federal highway funds in less than six weeks if the state legislature fails to change the law.

The federal government is requiring all states to comply with the 55-mile limit or suffer loss of all federally sponsored highway projects.

Idaho's present prima-facie speed limit has been questioned as the 55-mile limit can be enforced.

Pay shift asked

BOISE (UPI) — A bill to take health district employees out from under the state personnel pay scale could jeopardize federal funds for the seven districts, state officials warned a legislative committee Tuesday.

Introduced initially by the House State Affairs Committee the bill arose from county commissioners complaints about district health personnel making "too much money."

It caught the House Health and Welfare Committee by surprise.

Rep. Russell Fogg, R-Idaho Falls, told the Health and Welfare Committee he has heard from county commissioners — who question where the money they levy for the health districts really goes. Some health district employees "get two or three times what a county commissioner gets," he said, and the commissioners do not think they are worth it.

Spokesmen — for the Department of Environmental and Community Services, however, warned the committee this bill could jeopardize federal funds for the health districts.

Lenaghan absent

BOISE (UPI) — Robert Lenaghan will not be present at a public hearing concerning his confirmation to the Idaho Public Utilities Commission, it was revealed today.

Senate President Pro-Tem James Ellsworth, R-Leadore, said he was not the procedure to invite Lenaghan but "he'll have his day."

"He'll be given a chance to answer any questions which are raised at the public hearing Thursday," said Ellsworth, who had asked for the hearing.

The senate leader said he hoped that all legislators would be able to attend the hearing.

Lenaghan's appointment is one of three controversial ones which the senate will tackle. The others are Robert G. Thomas; Coeur d'Alene, to the Idaho Game Commission;

Bootlegged recording sales hit

BOISE (UPI) — The House Business Committee proposed Tuesday legislation to crack down on bootlegged musical tape recordings.

Under the bill it would be unlawful to reproduce for sale any sound recording without the written consent of the owner of the master recording.

It also would be illegal to sell or offer for sale or knowingly advertise for sale any sound recording that has been reproduced without the written consent of the owner of the master recording.

First-time offenders would be punished on misdemeanor penalties but repeat offenders would be punished under felony proceedings by a fine up to $5,000 and or imprisonment up to five years.

Another section of the bill stipulates the provisions are not intended to apply to reproduction of any sound recording that is intended to be used only for broadcast by commercial or educational radio or television station.

Nomination received

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Senate Tuesday received the nomination of a Boise attorney to serve as a member of the State Judicial Council.

Nominated by the board of commissioners of the Idaho State Bar was John W. Barrett. He would replace Tom Miller, Boise, who the commissioners said did not desire to be reappointed.

Barrett's appointment must be confirmed by the senate.

Minidoka County senior graduation set May 28

RUPERT — Graduation date for Minidoka County High School seniors was set for May 28 at the Minidoka School Board meeting Monday night. The decision to change the originally scheduled graduation date, May 31, to May 28 was made to allow a minimum of disruption to senior graduation activities in the last week of the school year while staying within the 180-day attendance rule set by the Idaho State Board of Education.

Calendar scheduling for next year was discussed, but will not be decided until the board's next meeting in February. The school board must consider the Minidoka County Fair dates, harvest vacation and Christmas vacation in order to arrive at an acceptable school calendar.

About 650 Minidoka students will be involved in fair events which presently conflict with the planned school opening date. A delegation from the fair committee attended the board meeting to help board members arrive at a solution to the problem.

The school board approved the following:

- two days personal leave for non-certified personnel to be paid on the same basis as certified employees.
- raises for custodial employees on a merit basis bringing the maximum for top employees to $528 per month.
- three cents per student dues to be paid to the Idaho School Action Association to pay for lobbying in the state legislature.
- rehiring of all school district principals and the student personnel administrator.
- hiring of Rhonda Bell as third grade teacher in Heyburn.
- seventh grade basketball games within the school district and with Burley.

— permission for 24 Minidoka all state band, chorus and orchestra students to attend the Idaho Music Educators Association state convention with their teachers in March.

San Franciscans suffer cirrhosis

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Cirrhosis of the liver, usually associated with high alcoholic consumption, afflicts more persons in San Francisco than any other city.

The California Department of Health reported Monday that San Francisco's death rate from the disease was 73.4 persons per 100,000 population, compared with the national rate of 15.7 per 100,000.

Coal export under fire

(c) Newhouse News Service

WASHINGTON — America's big coal producers are exporting about one million ton of coal a week — almost all of it clean, low-sulphur fuel that many electric utilities could use to replace residual oil lost through the Arab embargo.

The exports, which amount to nearly 18 per cent of the nation's coal output, are coming under increasing fire, especially shipments to Japan and Europe.

Last month the House and Senate commerce committees inserted a provision in the emergency energy bill that would authorize federal energy administrator William E. Simon to curtail coal shipments abroad. Some coal industry critics in Congress are now demanding immediate restrictions on exports, and hope to get at least a partial ban through the emergency measure, now awaiting floor action.

"It just doesn't make sense to export coal that ought to be utilized at home," said Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., key backer of an amendment to curtail all coal shipments to Japan and Europe.

SUN VALLEY (UPI) — The "Nordic Nights" night skiing for "cross country skiers" will begin Feb. 4 and run at 8 p.m. every Monday throughout the winter season. Lighted trails will lead to Trail Creek cabin where skiers will find music and a warm fire as part of the night skiing.

Cronk's Canyon

US HIGHWAY 93 runs through Cronk's Canyon north of Challis near Ellis and keeps a wintery appearance because of being shaded all the time. Once outside the canyon, the cold steam rising from the Salmon River and the icy coat on the highway are gone.

Mushroom warning

BOISE (UPI) — Royal Tram mushrooms in cans with a one line code number ending in "E" should be returned to the store where purchased, according to the Department of Environmental and Community Services. The department has warned Idahoans that the mushrooms have been recalled because of the presence of botulism type spores found in laboratory testing.

Law urged

BOISE (UPI) — Attorney General W. Anthony Park says he will ask the legislature for a law to give merchants an alternative to prosecuting shoplifters. Park told a luncheon club Tuesday he will ask for introduction of a bill to allow victimized merchants to bring civil suits against shoplifters or—in the case of minors—their parents.

March on statehouse

BOISE (UPI) — More than 100 persons marched on the statehouse Tuesday in commemoration of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling of one year ago that liberalized abortion laws in the country.

Nuns, priests, children, teenagers and a mother with infant in arms joined in the rally to demonstrate their opposition to liberal abortion laws. John Mitchell, chairman of the Idaho Right to Live Committee, and Dr. Harold Hatten, Boise, addressed the group, encouraging them to continue the fight against legalized abortions.

Deputy accompanies prisoner

CALDWELL, Idaho (UPI) — A deputy sheriff from Denver, Colo., flew to Idaho Tuesday to accompany Edward George Ackley, 18, to Denver to face a charge of first degree murder. The Caldwell youth will be arraigned and have a trial date set in the Colorado city. Ackley has already spent 14 months in Canyon County Jail during various court proceedings.

Burley man pleads guilty

BURLEY — Scott Baguley, 18, Burley, pled guilty to charges of first degree burglary Tuesday in connection with the Oct. 19 robbery of Pan Enterprises, Burley. He posted $1,000 bond for his release while sentence is pending.

Data conflicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Energy Office needs to supply more pertinent information to the public in addition to getting the facts on the extent of the fuel shortage, according to Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho. "Conflicting data on import and inventory levels has resulted in confusion and speculation that the energy crisis may be contrived," Hansen said.

Bond election eyed

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI) — Preparations have begun for a bond election to finance a new City Hall-law enforcement building in Nampa. The city council voted unanimously to accept plans for the structure. The council wants to hold the bond election by March, in time for this year's budget. The committee preparing the proposal suggested the city purchase a site on Caldwell Boulevard for the complex, which will also include a civic auditorium.

Water measurement up

SALMON, Idaho (UPI) — Snow water measurements on the Salmon River course are 224 per cent over last year's measurements and 116 per cent above the average for the 1959-72 years.

The Soil Conservation Service Tuesday reported that Galena Summit, Gibbons Pass, and Mill Creek Summit had much more snow and water content this year than was reported last year. Measurements were taken on a total of 10 Salmon River courses.

Mad slides

COUNCIL, Idaho (UPI) — Kleinschmidt Grade, a nine-mile stretch of road descending from Caprum to the Snake River, is blocked by at least two mad slides caused by heavy rains and warm temperatures last week. Adams County road supervisor Melvin Manning said he has been unable to learn the full extent of the slides and possible washouts.

Tax counseling aided

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legislation to provide tax counseling assistance for the elderly so they will be aware of possible deductions and credits has been introduced by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. "Preparation of a tax return," Church said, "is a complicated task for most persons. But it is frequently much more difficult for the elderly."

Church said that hearings conducted by the Senate Committee on Aging which he chairs have revealed that many older Americans overpay their income taxes because they are unaware of helpful deductions and credits.

MV water danger probed

Contacted by the Times-News Tuesday, Hazleton Mayor Jimmy Dryden said, "I haven't heard anything about" the EPA findings. Plans are underway for construction of a new municipal sewage system Dryden said, but replacement of the city's two water wells has not been considered. Dryden said he would "certainly check out" results of the EPA survey. The Hazleton and Hazleton water supplies were the only ones surveyed that showed sub-standard levels of arsenic. Anderson said samplings by the state "didn't find" arsenic in the two Magic Valley water sources. "There's quite a margin of safety" in federal health standards, according to Anderson.

"It's not an alarming thing at this rate," he said, "but something to attract our attention for follow-up."

Mullen said "arsenic is a cumulative substance" that can build up in the human body. Hazleton and Castleford "might look for other water sources and blend them with current supplies to come up with a lower concentration" of arsenic, according to Mullen.

Hazleton and Hollister water supplies failed at least one of the EPA tests for bacteria content.

The tests showed "unsatisfactory" levels of coliform bacteria, a non-toxic substance that is an "indicator of possible contamination from other, harmful bacteria," according to Mullen. A test failure means "it is likely that contamination is either present or has been there," Mullen said.

The EPA study assigned "risk factors" to each of the water supplies surveyed. The appraisal was weighed numerically from 1 through 10, with a 10 rating indicating "high public health risk."

The Hollister water system was given a 7 rating, followed by Hazleton, 6; Castleford, 4, and Hagerman, 2.

Mullen said, "We feel that a 6 or 7 would call for action by the community in improvement of facilities and increased monitoring programs." The Hollister "risk factor" was "highest because 'we felt that its distribution system is inadequate,'" according to Mullen.

The EPA study was actually an evaluation of the state's program of monitoring and regulating water supplies. The report is highly critical of the Idaho program.

It recommends, in part, an approximate doubling of money and manpower to control water quality, improvement in chemical and bacteriological surveillance of water supplies, revision of the 1964 Idaho Drinking Water Standards to reflect new technologies and designs and legislation to require certification of water supply facility operators.

College budget funds disputed

Dr. Taylor maintains that FTC calculations don't accurately reflect the costs incurred by the college. The CSI president said that what constitutes an academic program is necessary and desirable is a percentage increase of the previous year's budget. "It comes down to the fact that the junior colleges don't think they're getting enough money, even though the calculations may be legally correct. Budget officer White agrees somewhat."

"The problem is that all costs aren't reflected in the law," he said. There should be an adjustment of the budget, according to White, and this refiguring "requires a close look at what constitutes an academic program."

Ultimately, Taylor believes, junior colleges should be funded at a 75 per cent level of state support, with a cost per student rate that compares with the state college.

Local control of junior colleges will not be greatly reduced by increased state support, in Taylor's view.

Sedans tipped

TWIN FALLS — Vandals Tuesday night tipped over three foreign sedans at different locations in Twin Falls.

Detective Captain Tim Qualls said three Volkswagen sedans were reported tipped over this morning. One of them also had its windshield kicked in, he said. He said he thought the three tip overs were done by hand and were all connected to one another.

One sedan was tipped over on the Ace Hansen Chevrolet parking lot on Blue Lakes Boulevard North, Qualls said, a second at Erickson Motors on Main Ave. South and a third at a private residence in the 100 block of Caswell Avenue.

The sedan tipped over on Caswell also had its windshield broken, Qualls said.

2 SCAA directors named at Jerome

JEROME — Hazel Norris and Duane Peterson were elected to the board of directors of the South Central Community Action Agency (SCAA) Tuesday night.

Membership on the board of directors of SCAA consists of representatives of low income residents, county officials and private groups or agencies.

Petitions for representation on the board were received from Citizens for Education and the High Start program.

The county commissioners and present SCAA board members will consider the petitions along with others expected to be submitted and select two representatives to fill the board positions.

Members of the SCAA Tuesday formed a Jerome County Council with Peterson selected as chairman. The newly formed council had its

Burley principal denies fire info

BURLEY — Burley Junior High School Principal Lovell Turner said Tuesday he had no information about possible arson which destroyed the Burley Junior High School last year.

Turner had commented on the fire briefly at the Burley Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday, saying "If they find this little girl, I'd like to recommend a medal for her. She could have waited a year, however."

"Turner said last, however, the statement was just a chance remark, just a slight casual comment." He said talk of a girl or several girls who may have ignited the school fire was "just scuttlebutt you hear in the hall."

He said his "medal" remark only reflected the fact that the building would not have been renovated until at least 1975, and inflation would have driven up construction costs further by then.

"I don't want to suggest arson. That is a pretty poor thing for a principal to be saying—give them a medal," he said Tuesday.

Turner also denied saying anything about "girls" possibly setting the fire. "I said persons, not girls," he said Tuesday.

"I said you ought to give a medal to whoever did it," he said.

US jury awards $300,000

BOISE — A Washington man was awarded $300,000 by a US District Court jury in an injury suit stemming from a truck collision near Billas in 1972.

Quinn J. Charlson was awarded the $300,000 Jan. 11 against Kenneth R. Quick, a Virginia truck driver, and Burnham Van Service, Inc., a Columbus, Ga., trucking firm for which Quick was driving at the time of the accident.

In the suit, Charlson's attorneys claimed that Quick was negligent in losing control of his truck, crossing the median strip of Interstate 80 and smashing into a truck driven by Charlson. The accident occurred Feb. 26, 1972. Charlson was driving a truck from California to Montana at the time of the collision.

In awarding the $300,000, the jury deliberated about five-and-a-half hours. Federal District Court Judge J. Blaine Anderson presided.

The negligence suit was filed April 2, 1973, directly with the federal court after Charlson's attorneys said the suit qualified for federal court since there was a "diversity of citizenship" in the out-of-state parties to the suit and since the demand was for more than $10,000.

Charlson's attorneys, he said, had originally asked the court for $600,000 damages.

Minidoka budget up

RUPERT — Salary increases and the budgeting of nearly $500,000 in revenue sharing funds brought the tentative 1974 Minidoka County budget to $1.7 million.

The new budget is nearly $500,000 over last year's total of about $1.2 million.

A total of $410,000 in revenue sharing funds will be spent on construction of a new judicial building, $35,000 for a new tractor crawler for the sanitary landfill, $15,000 for a new building at the fair grounds, $40,000 for weed control, $600 for hospital equipment and $500 for recreation.

Another big increase in the budget will come in the sheriff's department. That budget rose to nearly $100,000 from about $50,000 because of allocations for three new deputies at a yearly salary of $7,000 each.

All county employees were given salary increases averaging about 7 per cent in an effort to even out pay schedules.

A nearly $21,000 increase in general expenses was budgeted mainly to handle election costs and an increase in Social Security payments. General expenses were set at about $77,000.

The janitorial budget nearly doubled this year because the county hired an additional janitor for the new city-county law enforcement building. About $18,000 was budgeted for janitorial expenses this year while last year only about $8,000 was spent.

Big increases were also evident in the indigent and junior college budgets, but, according to County Clerk August Batke, both categories are always overbudgeted to insure ample funds for possible emergencies.

The indigent budget rose to nearly $92,000 from about $71,000. The junior college fund, which is used to pay tuition for Minidoka County students attending the College of Southern Idaho, rose to $30,000 from about $19,500.

Also discussed at the Tuesday night meeting was the possibility of establishing a Senior Citizens Center beside the one now operating at Heritage Home. Marble said there are no facilities available to the senior citizen who lives outside of Heritage Home.

"While they can use the facilities at Heritage Home if they join the Senior Citizen group, some of them cannot afford to do so," Marble said.

Efforts are also being made to establish a food coop service in Jerome. The co-op would provide low cost food to its members according to Marble. He said anyone interested in joining the co-op is asked to contact his wife Lorraine Marble at 324-4722. "Also anyone interested in helping to establish the recreational facilities in Jerome are asked to contact me," Marble said.

Jerome budget tops million dollar mark

JEROME — For the first time in the history of Jerome County, the budget has topped the one million dollar mark, with a total of $1,186,406.77. Included in this year's budget is a total of $555,000 for a new courthouse addition.

A total of $50,000 was carried over from last year's budget for the new addition.

This year's tentative budget reflects a 13.23 per cent increase over last year's budget. The percentage increase does not include the money for the courthouse addition, according to Virginia Ricketts, county clerk and auditor.

"The total of this year's budget excluding the courthouse addition, is $531,306.77, compared to $467,651 for last year. Last year's budget included $90,000 which was carried over from this year's budget for the courthouse addition, making last year's total budget expenditures $557,651 from which the increase percentage was figured," Mrs. Ricketts said.

Also included in this year's budget is a 7.79 per cent salary increase for county employees. A public hearing will be conducted Feb. 11 at 2 p.m. at the Jerome County courthouse.

Mrs. Ricketts said the increase in this year's budget is due to several factors, including a $6,453 increase again this year in the sheriff's budget to be used for an additional deputy and car as well as the salary increases.

The total budget for the sheriff's department is set at $51,550 compared to $45,097 for last year.

Other major increases include $4,723.72 in the prosecuting attorney's budget, $7,530 in the district court and magistrate budget, $1,308 in the treasurer's budget, and $4,981 in the assessor's budget.

The total budget for the prosecuting attorney's office was been set at $20,740, compared to $18,018.22 expenditure last year.

Mrs. Ricketts said the increase has been allowed for the hiring of a part time deputy prosecuting attorney for the first time in Jerome County.

The district court and magistrate budget has been set at $36,080, an increase of $7,530 over last year's expenditure of $28,555. Mrs. Ricketts said the increase is due to Jerome County's participation for the first time in assisting the district probation officer program in the Magic Valley. Part of the increase is attributed to a tripling of case loads being handled by both courts.

The $1,308 increase in the treasurer's total budget of $19,295 has been approved for salary increases and for hiring additional part time help.

The $4,981 increase in the assessor's budget was approved for salary increases and the hiring of two part time field men to work on personal property assessments. The total assessor's budget is set at $39,530 compared to $34,549 for last year.

Current expenses for 1974 are set at $299,056 which includes the $555,000 for the courthouse addition. Last year's total was $290,618.

The airport budget shows a decrease of $2,750 for a total of $2,550 compared to last year's total of $5,300. The decrease is due to the fact that airport runway improvements were completed last year.

The board of health budget reflects an increase of $13,455 over last year's total of $23,512. The increase is due to the rise from $1.75 per capita to $2.15 per capita now being assessed by the health board, as well as additional money for the new health department building. The budget totals $38,797.

The charity and indigent fund of $52,300 shows a slight decrease of $400 over last year's total of $52,700.

Another decrease in this year's budget is in the refuse disposal budget which shows a decrease of $14,139 over last year. This year's total budget is set at $45,000, compared to $59,139 last year.

The week-end eradication account shows an increase of $130 over last year for a total of $68,600.

The fair board budget is up $1,728 from $48,022 last year. This year's total is $49,750.

Included for the first time in this year's budget is $20,000 for the National Guard Armory. Mrs. Ricketts said the amount has been included in anticipation of a joint land purchase with the city for a new maintenance building the National Guard wants to build.

The clerk auditor and recorder's budget is $36,480, an increase of $552 from last year's budget of $35,928.

The commissioner's budget is set at $15,080, compared to $14,855 in 1973, an increase of $1,125. The coroner's budget of $1,881 remains the same as for the last two years.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market opened higher in moderate trading Wednesday on the New York Stock Exchange. The Dow Jones industrial average, which gained almost 9 points, Tuesday, was about 0.25 to 0.50 points after the opening. Advances led declines, 232 to 95, among the 453 issues crossing the tape.

Turnover amounted to 510,000 shares. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's statement Tuesday he expected the Arab embargo on oil to ease soon was a major factor in the price rise. Prices had been falling before the announcement. Many analysts said investors would watch closely at the program President Nixon on the energy crisis. Wednesday, Nixon is expected to seek $1.5 billion for a crash energy project.

Quotations from Louis N. Ritten Co., Twin Falls

Spuds stronger

CHICAGO — May option on Idaho russet potatoes closed limit up Tuesday with new bids, as prices ranged widely in an active trade with futures of up to 10 cents recovered.

Commodity News Service said the final quota of 11.27 per hundredweight set a new contract high for May for the fourth straight day. Trade seemed to be stimulated by reports of steady cash markets.

Tuesday volume was estimated at 72 cars, compared with 23 on Monday.

In Chicago, 4 ounce Idaho russets were selling for 11.50-12.00 per cwt. on the cash market, with demand steady.

Live cattle

down limit

in trading

CHICAGO — Live cattle futures dropped to limit and near limit losses due to strong selling pressure in late season Tuesday.

Commodity News Service reported only the back months of October and December finished without limit losses, showing dips of 72 cents and 60 cents respectively. Volume was moderately heavy, with 5,311 contracts changing hands compared with 10,925 on Monday.

Futures opened weak across the board in nervous trading. An overrun of over 5,000 slaughter steers and trader anxiety concerning weakening of dressed beef prices created some pressure. Prices sold off rapidly soon after the opening with April showing limit losses. Throughout the session prices fluctuated from 60-87 cents before late selling dropped prices to their closing limit, down levels. Traders attributed market weakness to an overbought local condition following the cattle on feed report.

Some observers said they noted hedge selling in the back months. Dressed beef prices were weaker and live cash markets were steady to lower.

PAYMENT DEFICIT

TOKYO — Japan ran a $1.16 million balance of payments deficit in December, according to figures released today by the Ministry of Finance.

The deficit was the third largest on record, but smaller than that for November — was caused by a heavy outflow of long term capital, only partly offset by a visible trade surplus. Capital exports for the month totaled 1,220 million dollars, while the visible trade account showed a surplus of 570 million dollars.

PRICES SLIP

LONDON (CNS) — In thin trading conditions, London cocoa futures ignored higher overnight New York advice and ended the morning with net losses of up to 8 pounds from last night's closing levels.

INITIALLY GAINS

Initially gains of up to 4 pounds had been expected but after opening a couple of pounds higher, values slipped lower in a light trading volume.

GOLD CLOSING LOW

LONDON (CNS) — Gold closing in London at the day's lows at $135.50-137.50 per ounce.

DEALERS AND BUSINESS

Dealers and business were below Monday's hectic level. Profit-taking after the recent heavy rise was the dominant feature in trading today with European interests the main force in the market.

Trim "per-serving" costs WITH Buttreys Extra Value Trim

Another way to cut "per serving" costs

Considering only price per pound for meats can cost you money. To figure true value received for your meat dollars, think cost "per serving" when you buy meats, carefully comparing trim... the first step to lowering "per serving" costs. Another way to save on "per serving" costs is to lower cooking temperatures regardless of the cooking method used. High cooking temperatures result in more shrinkage, and a lower yield of cooked edible meat. Lower cooking temperatures also result in more tender, juicier meat. You can lower "per serving" costs by lowering cooking temperatures. More next week on ways to lower "per serving" costs.

Nader group raps product

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Ralph Nader research group has claimed that millions of ulcer victims may suffer if they use Alka-Seltzer as a remedy for stomach ailments.

The Health Research Group urged the government Monday not to let Alka-Seltzer be sold as a stomach remedy as well as for headaches.

The organization made its plea during a hearing by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), which is about to take final action on a recommendation by a panel of experts that Alka-Seltzer be allowed to continue on the market unchanged.

The Nader group has been fighting the recommendation since it was made early last year, claiming that the aspirin in Alka-Seltzer can cause stomach bleeding in some persons. It said the remedy is therefore a potential danger for the 10 million Americans who have ulcers, many undiagnosed, who might take the product for a headache and wind up harming their ulcer condition.

Miles Laboratories, which has said it intends to change neither the label nor formula for Alka-Seltzer, called the charges "fired and untrue," adding: "The monumental task of the government in reviewing all home medications must not be disturbed by frivolous revivals of old charges which have already been reviewed and discredited."

Door re-installed

UTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — Mayor Edward A. Hanna, who resumed his office three weeks ago to show that his administration was open to the public, had the door re-installed Monday.

The door was removed shortly after Hanna was sworn in as mayor with the start of the new year. A former Republican assemblyman, he was elected as an independent in November.

Asked by reporters why the door was re-installed, Hanna cited two reasons: Politicians and newsmen.

Survey review set

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Water Resources Board will meet Jan. 29 to review a statewide survey of public opinion on water resources, status of the state water plan objectives and proposed land use planning bills.

The board also will discuss a report on the Swan Falls-Gulley Project, review the fiscal year 1973 budget, and consider a loan application from the East Weller Irrigation District. There also will be a public hearing on proposed revision of administrative rules and procedures for revolving development fund loan applications.

Edna's 'house' sold

LAGRANGE, Tex. (UPI) — Edna Milton sold her "house" Monday, the one with 12 bedrooms, 12 baths and 12 closets loaded with fancy women's clothes.

The real estate agent who handled the purchase by two Houston attorneys said his clients paid more than the normal price of such a house and its 12 acres of hilly, pine-shaded land in Central Texas.

Edna Milton's "Chicken Ranch" — a house of prostitution — was believed to be the oldest established business in the state of Texas. It opened in 1884, when Texas was a republic.

Edna Milton can retire now, the real estate agent said.

The Chicken Ranch got its name during the Depression when the girls employed there took produce and livestock in lieu of cash and began raising poultry on the place.

Last year a television news team from Houston filmed a report from the Chicken Ranch. The film, brought to the attention of J. Edgar Hoover, who ordered the establishment closed.

Fayette County Sheriff T. J. Flourney said he received orders from the governor to close the bawdy house July 31.

"I've known Edna for 20 years and there ain't a finer woman than you will ever meet," the sheriff said. She takes care of her guests and she doesn't ever have any drinking or dope fights in her home.

"And in LaGrange we don't have any race cases or some such like they have in Houston. The people here don't mind Edna's home and we like it here."

Edna said that no one in LaGrange ever complained about her establishment and she thought each community should decide its own social norms.

"There are no drinks served here; no white slavery; no children involved. If anyone was forced to do something, that would be different."

Edna said she closed the Chicken Ranch closed to combat organized crime in Texas.

Reward offered

RATHDRUM, Idaho (UPI) — The family and friends of a young couple missing for two months under mysterious circumstances have offered a reward for their return, dead or alive.

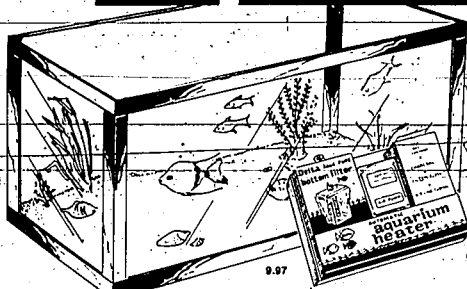

Dick Beman, Rathdrum, a neighbor of Ronald D. Marcusen, 22, and Rita, 21, said, "This reward is strictly for the recovery of Ron and Rita, dead or alive."

"We're all grabbing at straws and this is the last straw we have to hang on to," Beman said.

The Marcusens disappeared the night of last Nov. 19 after Ron had driven to Hayden Lake about 10 miles east of here to pick up his wife at her job at a dentist's office.

Four days later their small car was found high centered on a county road four miles northwest of here with its windows broken and the interior stripped.

The car and Mrs. Marcusen's purse, found about a month ago along Lake Pend Oreille near Sandpoint, are the only clues Kootenai County sheriff's deputies have to the couple's disappearance.

Mortgage rate cut called little help

(c) Washington Star-News
HOUSTON, Tex. — The reduction from 8.5 to 8.25 per cent in the maximum allowable interest rate for government-backed mortgages "won't have any effect in turning the decline in housing around," according to George C. Martin, president of the National Association of Home Builders.

He compared the reduction, announced by James T. Lynn, head of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, to "a pint of plasma" and contended that what the nation's sagging housing industry needs is a complete transfusion.

Lynn, on the other hand, called the rate cut an important step to assist home building.

The new lower maximum interest rate for mortgage loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration and guaranteed by the Veterans Administration was effective Tuesday. The rate ceiling had been 8.5 per cent since last Aug. 25.

Lynn said if further reductions are feasible, "We'll do it without hesitation." He said his objective is to have the FHA lead interest rates down to levels that will bring home buyers back into the market place.

Lynn also announced an expansion of the so-called tandem plan of the Government National Mortgage Association, which was instituted last fall as a way to provide assured financing for up to 100,000 units of new residential construction. It applied to FHA and VA insured loans bearing an 8.5 per cent stated interest rate.

Insignia of new line only familiar aspect

(c) Chicago Daily News
NOGALES, Ariz. — Volkswagen's new Dasher sports the German auto maker's VW insignia on its nose, but that's about as close as the compact car comes to the outside to fitting into the Volkswagen stable.

The Dasher, unveiled here in its initial public showing, is the first VW to be sold in North America with a water-cooled engine under the front hood and front-wheel drive.

VW's sister division, Audi, offers a similar car in the Audi Fox, but the Dasher will take its place next to the well-known Beetle in dealer showrooms, and the contrast is striking.

In outward design, the Dasher looks more like a typical sedan with fastback styling than the homely bulge of the Beetle.

• Built on a 97-inch wheelbase and at 173 inches over-all, the Dasher is nearly a foot longer than the Super Beetle, VW's best-selling car.

It is available in a two-door and four-door sedan and a four-door wagon, another first for VW.

It is powered by an 89.7 cubic inch 4-cylinder overhead-cam engine that generates 75 horsepower, slightly more powerful than the Beetle's engine.

ATTENTION STOCKHOLDERS OF THE TWIN FALLS CANAL COMPANY

Recently you have been mailed a ballot authorizing you to vote, so as to assist the Twin Falls Canal Company Board of Directors in determining whether or not they should formally enter into agreement to convey off-season water from Milner Dam-to-desert lands west of Buhl.

The plan and the agreement would promote a greater utilization of a portion of your present canal company facilities. Conveyancing fees paid pursuant to said agreement, would be applied directly in attempting to reduce the operating costs of the Twin Falls Canal Company and keep your water costs at the lowest possible amount. It is estimated that in excess of $100,000 could be returned annually to the canal company if agreements were reached both with the Canyon View Irrigation Company and the Tuana Mutual Irrigation Company. Far reaching benefits estimated as high as $40,000,000 annually, together with the indirect benefits of recreation would accrue in Magic Valley, particularly to the cities of Twin Falls, Filer, Buhl and Castleford.

The proposals contemplate the utilization of reservoir sites west of Salmon Falls Creek Canyon. One will be approximately 1,200 acres in size and approximately 150 feet deep at some locations.

The Twin Falls Canal Company Board of Directors has worked closely with their attorneys in the preliminary stages of preparing an agreement which would protect the present rights of all Twin Falls Canal Company stockholders.

We encourage you as a stockholder of the Twin Falls Canal Company to both profit and to share the use of your system, at a time when you do not need it, for the long range benefit of the whole community and the County. This is a good example of being able to vote for the utilization of Idaho waters in Idaho.

VOTE YES

and show your confidence in the Board of Directors that have favorably recommended the proposal to you.

If you have already voted, and wish to reconsider or change your vote at any time prior to February 11th, you may do so by recalling the ballot that you have previously mailed at the Twin Falls Canal Company office and executing a new ballot.

For more information on this subject, you may call any of the hereinafter listed officers of the Canyon View Irrigation Company or the Twin Falls Canal Company office.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

What is the ideal age for a man to marry? Surveys by various pollsters, querying a total of more than 18,000 men, indicate the commonest opinion among them is 24 years 6 months.

Some scholars say the elephants far outnumbered the horses on this continent once.

The blonde it is whose hair most quickly comes undone in the log.

It's the custom in Iceland to test modesty by tickling.

INSTALLMENTS
Am asked who first dreamed up that thing known as the installment purchase plan. One Edward Clark, a lawyer, was the fellow. He jumped into partnership with that sewing machine man I. M. Singer. In 1856, average household income was only about $300 a year. But the cost of that dandy new sewing device was a high $125. So Mr. Clark devised a program wherein a lady could buy the thing with $5 down and $3 a month.

Q: "What color fabric is most commonly used by the bra makers?"
A: White cotton.

Q: "How come we refer to liquor as 'hoohy'?"
A: Comes from 'hoochins,' a mighty potent alcoholic drink brewed up by the natives of Alaska.

Q: "Who's the patron saint of short men?"
A: That would have to be St. Francis Xavier, no? He only stood 4-6-8 inches.

Q: "Anybody got some idea how many tapes never get reported to the police?"
A: Lawless figure about nine out of 10 don't.

PRESIDENTS
That 52 per cent of all our presidents were first-born sons has been reported. Less widely known is that all but one of these first-born leaders were elected during national crises. Mr. William McKinley was the exception. The Spanish-American War didn't come up until two years after he entered office. As for the presidents who were not first-born sons, it can be said they slipped into office during the quieter times. Theory is the people elect a big brother when there's a trouble.

Here's a client who collects those fascinating 'toilet articles' of yesteryear, ear cleaning spoons. What do you collect? ... DEAR ABBY: A Mr. A. W. Lyons of Prospect, Ky., wrote to say that man is the only animal that practices group sex. He is mistaken. Probably the best known example is the California sea hare.

Sea hares have a complete set of both male and female sex organs, and can assume either role. In laboratory studies, sea hares have been observed copulating in groups, as many as eight have copulated in a complete circle for as long as three days!

So, please pass this on to Mr. Lyons and your readers. We know of at least one other animal besides man that practices group sex. And wouldn't you know it would have to happen in California!

RICHARD JOSSLIN, Ph.D.
San Pedro, Cal.

Orgy
no secret

DEAR DR. J.: The orgy you cite is no secret. It's recorded in the Natural History of Marine Animals. And by the way, Jane Goodall, who lived for ten years among wild chimpanzees while she studied them, reported that a female chimp named "Flo" had a battalion of suitors following in line for her favors, and she accommodated them all one after the other.

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad you told that 17-year-old girl to save herself for marriage. She said she'd heard that most fellows don't care if the girl they marry is a virgin or not.

I am 16, and I have made up my mind that on my wedding night I am going to be able to say to my husband, "Yes, Darling, YOU are the first!"

WAITING IN SEATTLE

DEAR WAITING: Lovely. And someday you may want to say, "And the first shall be the last."

DEAR ABBY: "Alone and Crying's" story was my story. I too loved my first husband until all my heart until one day he told me he no longer wanted the responsibility of marriage. As it turned out, he wanted the responsibility of another woman.

I also cried and begged and kissed him while he stood

TF cleaners still have clothes hangers

TWIN FALLS — Despite talk of a reported nationwide shortage of coat hangers, Twin Falls cleaners still have hangers.

William Seltz, executive director of the 3,000-member Neighborhood Cleaners Association in New York said hangers are in short supply because of a sharp increase in the price of steel.

He said his group is preparing hanger attachable tags to bring attention to the shortage and request return of the hangers.

Twin Falls cleaners report steep price hikes; but say that so far there has been little problem in obtaining hangers.

Elmer Harmon, purchasing agent at Troy National Laundry, said he has not been stopped from buying hangers, but that orders take much longer to arrive.

Whereas the hangers used to arrive from a full Salt Lake City warehouse within two or three days, now the warehouse has to pass on the order and it takes up to six weeks.

Also, the price has risen steeply during the past year. Between January and June it went up 10 per cent and up another 11 per cent between June and November, Harmon said. Since November the price has soared another 10 per cent.

Maxine, Doss Byrnes, co-

owner of Doss Exclusive Cleaners, said that her supplier is now only sending her half of the hangers she orders. She has not run short so far, however, because she had a large bag supply.

But the shortage of hangers is not the only problem, Mrs. Byrnes maintained. She said that while the price is rising, less steel is being put in the hangers, making them weak.

Also, polyester bags, which are new hangers and smaller have jumped from $10 to $18 a roll in the past couple of months.

Carl Fillmore, owner of One Hour Martinizing, said that he has received no notice from his suppliers that hangers are short. He said he ordered 5,000 hangers last week and received them within two days. However, Fillmore said that Martin Sales has sent him a brochure warning of possible hanger and plastic bag shortages.

A sharp rise in the price of steel is the reason for the shortage, according to a spokesman for a national dry-cleaning group. William Seltz, executive director of the 3,000-member of the Neighborhood Cleaners Association told UPI Monday the group has prepared hanger-attachable tags advertising the shortage and requesting return of the hangers.

License plates expire

TWIN FALLS — Ronald Taylor, Twin Falls County assessor, reminds motorists that their 1974 license plates, with number ending in 1 expire at midnight Jan. 31.

He said a black on yellow 1975 sticker must be purchased from his office and placed on the license plate in the proper location before midnight Jan. 31 to avoid citation for expired license plates.

Your advice, "quit begging and prepare to make a new life for yourself because good luck often comes disguised as disaster," was the most precious statement you ever wrote.

A year after my divorce I met the most wonderful man in the world. He is 100 times the man my first husband was. My salvation was getting involved with a good church. Nazarene—and thru its activities came my good luck.

Please print this to let "Alone and Crying" know that it's not the end of the world for her. If I could make it, so can she.

Burley City Council appoints city clerk

BURLEY — E. E. (Bud) Brinegar was appointed city clerk during the Burley City Council meeting Monday night.

Brinegar, a local business manager, was appointed to fill the opening created when former city clerk Charles Shaddock was elected mayor.

A delegation of Burley bar owners attended the meeting to appeal for Sunday beer sales. One of the reasons for asking the change is that many Cassia County residents drive out of the county to buy beer on Sunday. This hurts Burley business besides causing a highway hazard.

The matter was taken under advisement by the council. In other action the council reappointed all city department heads and granted salary increases to city street and electric employees.

Impeachment evidence secret

(c) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — The work of the House Judiciary Committee's special impeachment staff will be kept secret from most members of the panel, according to Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, the senior Republican on the committee.

Hutchinson said that he and Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., have agreed to withhold possible evidence in the impeachment inquiry from other members of the committee to prevent news leaks.

"The chairman and I don't think members of the committee should be privy to information compiled by the staff, at least immediately," Hutchinson said in an interview Monday.

"Otherwise," he said, "the material would be available to the world."

The first cattle brought to Texas were a herd of 200 head by Spanish explorers in 1690.

Hey, Whiskey Drinker.

"The usual."

Ever think about what you might be missing by calling for the "usual"?

Well think. Think about a whiskey that's so unusual people liked it the day it made its bow 10 years ago. Today millions drink it... and yet no one's managed to copy it.

Think about a whiskey that's so easy going down, it's given a whole other name to the pleasures of drinking.

The name is soft. The Soft Whiskey. The other name for America's Calvert Extra.

Just once, friend, think about not repeating yourself.

Think about what you've been missing. And shall miss no more.

Blaine schools cut heat

HAILEY — The Blaine County School District is combating the energy crisis by lowering school thermostats and encouraging teachers to turn off car pools.

According to a district report its energy saving measures, thermostats at all schools will be set at 60 degrees during the day and will be lowered by an additional six degrees after school hours. Lights will also be turned off in areas of the buildings which are not in use.

The report also said that janitors in all buildings are establishing regular maintenance schedules on all heating units and will turn off lights in areas of the buildings where the janitors are not working.

Outside lighting system time clocks as well as heating system fresh air in-takes are being checked to ensure that they are working properly, the report stated.

Only regularly organized activity groups will be able to take on the activity bus trips to and from athletic events. All spectators will be charged a minimum fee to help defray the costs of these trips, the report stated.

If the activity buses are not used, the students' parents will be charged. The report also said that district officials hope that this practice will lower the number of cars on highway.
